Soil Fumigation Training to be Held in Idaho

The Idaho State Department of Agriculture and several soil fumigation companies will sponsor free seminars this fall to inform and train growers, soil fumigation applicators, handlers and workers on the latest requirements for applying soil fumigants. The ISDA is providing four (4) recertification credits for certified applicators attending the seminar.

The trainings will take place in Idaho Falls, Pocatello, Burley, Twin Falls, Nampa and Ontario, Oregon. All soil fumigation applicators, handlers, workers, fieldmen, dealers, consultants, growers and other associated persons are encouraged to attend one of these trainings. This training will provide sufficient information to satisfy the label mandated requirement for handler training and help users of soil fumigants to comply with the new label changes.
